

At CardioNet:

Investor Relations

1.800.908.7103

investorrelations@cardionet.com

CardioNet, Inc.
Management Team, Board of Directors, and Medical Advisory Board

Management Team

Randy H. Thurman – Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer

Randy Thurman was appointed Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of CardioNet in February of 2009. He also served as the CardioNet Executive Chairman of the Board from July 2008 through February 2009. Prior to CardioNet, Randy was Chairman & CEO of VIASYS Healthcare Inc. (NYSE:VAS, a global leader in respiratory, neurological and medical/surgical technologies. Randy founded VIASYS in 2001 and led the consolidation of 15 independent companies and the subsequent public offering on the New York Stock Exchange. In mid 2007 VIASYS was acquired by Cardinal Health Inc. in a transaction which represented a fourfold increase in enterprise value over the five years the company was public. Randy was named an Ernst and Young Entrepreneur of the Year in healthcare technology in 2007. VIASYS was named by Smart Money magazine as one of the ten best investments for the decade.

Prior to joining VIASYS Healthcare Inc., Randy was CEO of Strategic Reserves LLC and participated in various entrepreneurial ventures including the start-up of two medical device companies, two genomics companies and, as Chairman of the Board of Enzon Inc., guided their growth from a $70 million market capitalization to over $2.5 billion. Previously, Randy was Chairman & CEO of Corning Life Sciences Inc. which grew from $700 million to over $2 billion in revenue and subsequently was spun off as two NYSE companies. Earlier in his career, Randy was with Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. and led its successful acquisition of Revlon Healthcare and subsequent merger with Rhône-Poulenc. Randy served as President of Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. and President, Rhône-Poulenc Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. Randy holds an undergraduate degree in Economics from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and an M.A. in Economics from Webster University. He also graduated from the United States Air Force Air Command & Staff College.

Heather Getz, CPA – Chief Financial Officer

Heather Getz was appointed Chief Financial Officer in January 2010. Heather joined CardioNet in May 2009, bringing years of extensive financial experience. Most recently, Heather was Vice President of Finance at Alita Pharmaceuticals, Inc., responsible for all areas of finance, accounting and information systems. Prior to Alita Pharmaceuticals, Heather held various financial leadership positions at VIASYS Healthcare Inc., including directing the company's global financial planning, budgeting and analysis, and external reporting functions. Heather began her career at Sunoco, Inc., where she held various positions of increasing responsibility. Heather is a certified public accountant, and received her undergraduate degree in Accountancy and an MBA from Villanova University.

Andy Broadway – Vice President, Marketing

Andy Broadway joined CardioNet in June 2009, bringing nearly 15 years of pharmaceutical sales and marketing experience, including extensive therapeutic knowledge in Cardiology and Neurology. Most recently, Andy was Director of Marketing at Bristol-Myers Squibb, leading the commercialization launch efforts of a potential new therapy for the treatment of Stroke Prevention in Atrial Fibrillation. Prior to Bristol-Myers Squibb, Andy was on the marketing team at Pfizer, where he led the development of the strategic vision, brand platform evolution, commercialization of new clinical studies, and launch of new indications for several leading brands. Andy started his career with Sanofi Pharmaceuticals, where he held numerous positions of increasing responsibility including sales, specialty sales, sales management, and marketing management. Andy received his undergraduate degree in Zoology from Auburn University.

Charles Gropper –Vice President, Research and Development

Charles Gropper joined CardioNet in January 2008. Charles brings nearly 30 years of experience in the design and development of medical devices. Prior to CardioNet, Charles most recently served as Vice President, Engineering at HepaHope, Inc., working on the design of an artificial liver system from 2005 to 2008. Prior to his experience with HepaHope, Charles has held several senior engineering management positions with such companies as Cameron Health, Inc., Cardiac Science, Inc. Datascope Corp., and Bear Medical Systems. Charles received his undergraduate degree in Biomedical Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and an MBA from California State University, Fullerton.

George Hrenko –Vice President, Human Resources

George Hrenko joined CardioNet in June 2008. Most recently, George served as a Director of Human Resources for Target Corporation from February 2002 to March 2007. From December 1998 to February 2002, George held several positions with Bank One Corporation, including First Vice President, Human Resources Generalist, Vice President, Compensation, and Vice President, Corporate Staffing. From 1996 to 1998 he served as Managing Director, Human Resources for Continental Airlines. Prior to Continental Airlines, George served as Human Resources Manager at Pepsi-Cola Co, Pepsico, Inc., from 1987 to 1996. George received an undergraduate degree in English and Psychology from Penn State University.

John Imperato – Senior Vice President, Business Operations

John Imperato joined CardioNet in June 2008, bringing several years of experience in business operations in the healthcare industry. Prior to joining CardioNet, John was SVP of Integration and Business Operations for Cardinal Health, and SVP, Corporate Finance and Business Operations for VIASYS, which included the VIASYS Clinical Services business. Prior to joining VIASYS, John held several healthcare roles, including CFO of Auxilium, Inc., and EVP and CFO of IBAH, Inc, a subsidiary of Omnicare Clinical Services. Earlier in his career, John held various positions at Rhone-Poulenc Rorer, including Group VP of Finance for Worldwide Industrial Operations. John received his undergraduate degree in Accounting from Manhattan College, and an MBA in Corporate Financial Management from Pace University.

Philip G. Leone – Senior Vice President, Reimbursement Services, Regulatory and Compliance

Philip joined CardioNet with over 16 years of experience working with CMS, commercial payors, managed care organizations and reimbursement services. Prior to joining CardioNet, Philip successfully served in numerous sales and executive sales management positions within Legend Healthcare where he was one of their initial hires and concluded as Executive Vice President/COO. Philip has negotiated hundreds of contracts, including fee for service and risk sharing arrangements as well. Philip received his Bachelors Degree from Western New England College in Springfield MA and was a Board Member of CHAP (Community Health Accreditation Program) from April 2000 – April 2001.

Matthew Margolies – Senior Vice President, Sales and Marketing

Matt Margolies joined CardioNet in January 2009. Matt brings over 20 years of experience in the medical device and medical products industry, with extensive experience in the Cardio-Pulmonary, Cardiology, and Cardiology imaging areas. Prior to CardioNet, Matt was the VP of Sales for the Respiratory Care division at Cardinal Health. Prior to Cardinal Health, Matt held several management positions with Viasys Healthcare (acquired by Cardinal Health in 2007), including Division President of Respiratory Diagnostics, SVP of Sales and Marketing Respiratory Diagnostics, and VP of US Sales for Respiratory Diagnostics. As a sales and marketing leader, he was responsible for the worldwide management of the Respiratory Diagnostics Group where he led 25% growth year over year. Before Viasys Healthcare, from 1993 to 2004 Matt held sales and marketing positions for the Mallinckrodt division of Covidien Healthcare. Matt received an undergraduate degree in marketing from Ramapo College in NJ.

Anna McNamara, RN – Senior Vice President, Clinical Operations

McNamara joined CardioNet in 2002 from LifeWatch, where she served as executive vice president of clinical operations and was responsible for all clinical monitoring operations, clinical research activities and quality assurance. Earlier, she held the position of vice president of clinical operations for Quality Diagnostic Services/WebMD, and led clinical operations at NMC Diagnostic Services and Survival Technology Inc. In addition, McNamara has several years of nursing experience; she served as RN team leader in cardiac care units at New York University Hospital and Bellevue Hospital. McNamara received her bachelor's degree from Marymount College in New York City and her RN degree at Mercy Hospital in Scranton, PA.

Bill Swavely – Vice President, Information Technology

Bill Swavely joined CardioNet in September 2009 with over 20 years of experience in the healthcare and technology industries, bringing extensive expertise in IT infrastructure and applications development. Before joining CardioNet, Bill was a principal at Enable Business Solutions, an executive IT consulting firm. With Enable, Bill consulted for several leading healthcare and technology companies, including Cardinal Health, VIASYS Healthcare, SONY Entertainment, and Verizon, to name a few. Prior to Enable, Bill was the Director of IT for EIS International, an outbound dialer and blended contact center solutions provider. Bill received an undergraduate degree in Electrical and Computer Engineering from Clarkson University, and an MBA from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Board of Directors

Randy H. Thurman – Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer

Randy Thurman was appointed Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of CardioNet in February of 2009. He also served as the CardioNet Executive Chairman of the Board from July 2008 through February 2009. Prior to CardioNet, Randy was Chairman & CEO of VIASYS Healthcare Inc. (NYSE:VAS, a global leader in respiratory, neurological and medical/surgical technologies. Randy founded VIASYS in 2001 and led the consolidation of 15 independent companies and the subsequent public offering on the New York Stock Exchange. In mid 2007 VIASYS was acquired by Cardinal Health Inc. in a transaction which represented a fourfold increase in enterprise value over the five years the company was public. Randy was named an Ernst and Young Entrepreneur of the Year in healthcare technology in 2007. VIASYS was named by Smart Money magazine as one of the ten best investments for the decade.

Prior to joining VIASYS Healthcare Inc., Randy was CEO of Strategic Reserves LLC and participated in various entrepreneurial ventures including the start-up of two medical device companies, two genomics companies and, as Chairman of the Board of Enzon Inc., guided their growth from a $70 million market capitalization to over $2.5 billion. Previously, Randy was Chairman & CEO of Corning Life Sciences Inc. which grew from $700 million to over $2 billion in revenue and subsequently was spun off as two NYSE companies. Earlier in his career, Randy was with Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. and led its successful acquisition of Revlon Healthcare and subsequent merger with Rhône-Poulenc. Randy served as President of Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. and President, Rhône-Poulenc Rorer Pharmaceuticals Inc. Randy holds an undergraduate degree in Economics from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and an M.A. in Economics from Webster University. He also graduated from the United States Air Force Air Command & Staff College.

Ronald Ahrens – Board Member

Mr. Ahrens has been a member of our Board of Directors since August 2008. From 2004 to the present, Mr. Ahrens has served as the Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors and as a member of the Compensation Committee of Temptime Corporation, a healthcare technology company. Previously he served as a Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chairman of the Compensation Committee of VIASYS Healthcare Inc., a global medical technology company, from November 2001 until its acquisition in July 2007 for $1.5 billion by Cardinal Health. Mr. Ahrens' past experience includes serving as Chairman of the Board of Directors of Closure Medical Corporation, a medical devices corporation, from 1999 through June 2004, St. Ives Laboratories, Inc., a hair and skin care company from 1995 to 1997 and from 1990 to 1993 as a member of the Board of Directors of Alcide Corporation, an animal healthcare technology company. Earlier in his career, Mr. Ahrens held various positions with Merck & Co, Inc. a global pharmaceuticals products company, including President of Merck Consumer Healthcare Group Worldwide and Executive Vice President of Merck Consumer Healthcare Group International. Mr. Ahrens received an undergraduate degree in English from Concordia College and a Masters in Sacred Theology from Concordia Seminary.

Kirk Gorman – Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, Jefferson Health Systems

Mr. Gorman joined the CardioNet board of directors in August 2008. He is currently Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Jefferson Health Systems, the largest hospital system in Philadelphia. Prior to Jefferson Health Systems, he was Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Universal Health Services, the country's fifth largest investor owned hospital chain, and President, Chief Financial Officer and member of the Board of Trustees of Universal Health Realty Income Trust, a NYSE-listed healthcare REIT. Mr. Gorman began his career with Mellon Bank, where he served in numerous credit, cash management, and corporate banking functions.

Mr. Gorman also brings extensive Board experience to CardioNet. Currently, he serves as Chairman of the Board of Care Investment Trust, a NYSE-listed healthcare REIT, and is a member of the board of IASIS Healthcare LLC, an owner and operator of community-focused hospitals. Mr. Gorman also served on the Boards of VIASYS Healthcare, Physician Dialysis, Inc. and HCF Guernsey, Ltd.

Fred Middleton – General Partner/Managing Director, Sanderling Ventures

Mr. Middleton has been a member of our board of directors since April 2000. Since 1987, he has been a General Partner/Managing Director of Sanderling Ventures, a firm specializing in biomedical venture capital. From 1984 through 1986, he was the Managing General Partner of Morgan Stanley Ventures, an affiliate of Morgan Stanley & Co. Earlier in his career, Mr. Middleton was part of the original management team at Genentech, Inc., a biotechnology company, serving there from 1978 through 1984 as Vice President of Finance and Corporate Development, and Chief Financial Officer. He has played active management roles in many biomedical companies, including as Chairman, CEO or director of a number of Sanderling portfolio companies, currently including Stereotaxis, Inc., a medical device company where he serves as Chairman, as well as serving as board member of several privately held biomedical companies. Mr. Middleton received an undergraduate degree in Chemistry from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and an M.B.A. with distinction from Harvard Business School.

Eric N. Prystowsky, M.D. – Director, Clinical Electrophysiology, St. Vincent Hospital

Dr. Prystowsky has been a member of our board of directors since March 2001. Since 1988, Dr. Prystowsky has served as the Director, Clinical Electrophysiology Laboratory at St. Vincent Hospital, Indianapolis Indiana. Since 1988, Dr. Prystowsky has served as Consulting Professor of Medicine at Duke University. Since 2004, he has served as the associate editor of Hurst Textbook of Cardiology and, since January 2004, he has served as editor-in-chief of the Journal of Cardiovascular Electrophysiology. From 1992 to 1994, he served as the Chairman of the American Heart Association's Committee on Electrocardiography and Electrophysiology and, from May 2001 to May 2002, as President of the Heart Rhythm Society. Dr. Prystowsky currently serves as the Chairman of the ABIM test writing committee for the Electrophysiology Boards. Dr. Prystowsky currently serves on the board of directors of Stereotaxis, Inc., a biotechnology company. Dr. Prystowsky received an undergraduate degree from the Pennsylvania State University and an M.D. from the Mount Sinai School of Medicine.

Rebecca W. Rimel – President and CEO of The Pew Charitable Trusts

Ms. Rimel has been a member of our board of directors since May 2009. She joined The Pew Charitable Trusts in 1983 as Health Program Manager and has led the organization for 20 years as Executive Director from 1988 through 1994 and in her current position as President and CEO since 1994. From 1981 through 1983, Ms. Rimel served as Assistant Professor in the Department of Neurosurgery at the University of Virginia Hospital. Along with additional teaching and practitioner positions at the University of Virginia Hospital, she also held the title of Head Nurse of the medical center's emergency department. Ms. Rimel serves as a member of the Board of The Pew Charitable Trusts, and on the Boards of Deutsche Asset Management/DWS Funds, the Thomas Jefferson Foundation and Pro Publica. Ms. Rimel received her Bachelor of Science, with distinction, from the University of Virginia School of Nursing in 1973, and earned a Master of Business Administration from James Madison University in 1983.

Robert J. Rubin, M.D. – Clinical Professor of Medicine, Georgetown University

Dr. Rubin has been a member of our board of directors since July 2007. He has been a clinical professor of medicine at Georgetown University since 1995. From 1987 to 2001, he was president of the Lewin Group (purchased by Quintiles Transnational Corp. in 1996), a national health policy and management consulting firm. From 1994 to 1996, Dr. Rubin served as Medical Director of ValueRx, a pharmaceutical benefits company. From 1992 to 1996, Dr. Rubin served as President of Lewin-VHI, a health care consulting company. From 1987 to 1992, he served as President of Lewin-ICF, a health care consulting company. From 1984 to 1987, Dr. Rubin served as a principal for ICF, Inc., a health care consulting company. From 1981 to 1984, Dr. Rubin served as the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation at the Department of Health and Human Services and as an Assistant Surgeon General in the United States Public Health Service. Dr. Rubin is a board certified nephrologist and internist. Dr. Rubin received an undergraduate degree in political science from Williams College and an M.D. from Cornell University.

Medical Advisory Board

Peter R. Kowey, M.D., FACC, FACP, FACCP, FCP

Dr. Kowey is Chief of the Division of Cardiovascular Diseases for the Main Line Health System, including Lankenau Hospital. He is also Professor of Medicine and Clinical Pharmacology at Jefferson Medical College, and President of the Heart Center of the Main Line Health System. He has served as a member of the Cardiorenal Drug Advisory Committee and the Cardiovascular Devices Committee of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and holds the William Wikoff Smith Chair in Cardiovascular Research. Dr. Kowey received his medical degree from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

David G. Benditt, M.D., FACC, FRCP(C), FHRS

Dr. Benditt is Professor of Medicine and Co-Director of the Cardiac Arrhythmia and Syncope Center at University of Minnesota Medical School. Dr. Benditt is a past president of the North American Society for Pacing and Electrophysiology (now known as the Heart Rhythm Society). He currently is an Associate editor with the Journal of Interventional Electrophysiology (JICE) and is an editorial board member of the Journal of the American College of Cardiology (JACC), Europace, and the American Journal of Cardiology (AJC). Dr. Benditt received his medical degree from the University of Manitoba.

Kenneth A. Ellenbogen, M.D., FACC

Dr. Ellenbogen is the Vice-Chairman of Cardiology at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) and was awarded the Kontos Endowed Professorship in 2000. He also serves as Director of Clinical Cardiac Electrophysiology and Pacing at both VCU's MCV Campus and the McGuire Veterans Administration Medical Center. Dr. Ellenbogen serves on the editorial boards of the Journal of the American College of Cardiology, American Journal of Cardiology, American Heart Journal, Circulation, the Journal of Cardiovascular Electrophysiology, Heart Rhythm and is one of the Senior Editors of PACE. Dr. Ellenbogen received his medical degree from Johns Hopkins University.

Scott Eric Kasner, M.D., MSCE, FAHA

Dr. Kasner is Associate Professor of Neurology and Director of the Comprehensive Stroke Center at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of the leadership committee of the American Stroke Association and is on the editorial board of the Journal of Stroke and Cerebrovascular Disease, as well as the stroke section editor of UpToDate. Dr. Kasner received his medical degree from Yale Medical School.

Arthur J. Moss, M.D. – Dr. Moss is Professor of Medicine (Cardiology) and Professor of Community and Preventive Medicine at University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry. He is also the Director of the Heart Research Follow-up Program at the University of Rochester Medical Center and Editor-in-Chief for the Annals of Noninvasive Electrocardiology. Dr. Moss received his medical degree from Harvard Medical School.

Evelio Rodriguez, M.D., FACS – Dr. Rodriguez is a practicing cardiothoracic surgeon at the Brody School of Medicine, East Carolina University, where he is Assistant Professor of Surgery and Pediatrics in the Department of Cardiovascular Sciences. Dr. Rodriguez received his medical degree from Albany Medical College.

William S. Weintraub, M.D., FACC, FAHA – Dr. Weintraub is the John H. Ammon Chair of Cardiology at Christiana Care Health System, Professor of Medicine at Jefferson University and Professor of Health Sciences at the University of Delaware. He is also director of the Christiana Center for Outcomes Research, which focuses on identifying and supporting “best practices” in medicine and improving health care. He is Chairman of the CathPCI Steering Committee for the American College of Cardiology National Cardiovascular Data Registry. Dr. Weintraub received his medical degree from Johns Hopkins University.

###